No. 181.—The following Royal Proclamation is published for general information:—

GEORGE V, BY THE GRACE OF GOD, OF THE UNITED KINGDOM OF GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND AND OF THE DOMINIONS THEREOF HIS KING, DEFEAT OF THE FORT, MADRAS AND INDIA.

To my Privy and General Council, in Presence of India State and in all my subjects in India of whatever rank or grade.

Whereas,

In Our message to you of December 23, 1919, We stated you of Our affection and goodwill and of the deep interest with which We welcomed the coming stage of political development in India. As a Royal token of Our interest and regard, We expressed Our hope that Our dear Son, the Prince of Wales, would visit Calcutta and would visit and inaugurate in Our behalf both the Federal Legislature and Chamber of Princes. This hope, alas, cannot be realized. The increasing Legislature and Chamber of Princes in other parts of Our Empire have laid us heavy a burden upon his shoulder that it would not be possible for him at so early a date to undertake another journey and address journey without exposed danger to his health.

We have accordingly decided that he will in India meet for the present be deferred. To this decision We have come with a full appreciation of the disappointment which it will cause to the Prince and people of India, but We are confident that they will share Our anxiety to safeguard the health of Our dear Son.

It is Our full intention that the Prince of Wales shall make himself personally acquainted with Our Indian Empire, its loyal peoples and its many interests, and, the person that, if he has by then recovered from the fatigues of his present labours, the visit now proposed shall be accomplished in the winter of next year.

Meanwhile it remains Our desire to mark in a special manner Our sense of the numerous way which India is now taking toward greater constitutional freedom.

Although it has not pleased Providence that Our dear Son should carry Our greetings on this occasion, We shall send in his stead Our uncle His Royal Highness Field Marshal Viscount Alexander to inaugurate on Our behalf the Chamber of Princes, the Council of State, and the Indian Legislative Assembly, to take his part in other ceremonies which he would have performed and in convey to the Princes and people of India the messages which it had been Our hope to extend to him.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE.

POST AND TELEGRAPH ESTABLISHMENTS.

Calcutta, the 26th August 1899.

No. 2074.—The Government of India have been in correspondence with the Secretary of State regarding the improvement of the position of officers of the Telegraph Establishment of the Telegraph Department. As a measure of service which the Secretary of State on January 17th, 1900, continued, with effect from August 1st, 1919, a revised scale of pay similar to that sanctioned for the Public Works Department, and this scale was brought into effect under colour commencing in the Director-General of Posts and Telegraphs by the Government of India on February 1st, 1924. A further and final revision of pay and allowances for the existing grades was sanctioned by the Secretary of State with effect from January 1st, under his telegram dated February 17th, 1924.

(A) Superintendents and Assistant Superintendents.—The entire scale of pay, sanctioned with effect from August 1st, 1919, to December 31st, 1919, is that published below as Scale A. The Government of India are, however, of opinion that the distinction between the Imperial and Provincial Services should no longer be preserved in its present form, and with the sanction of the Secretary of State, they have decided to amalgamate the two services with effect from January 1st, 1924. The new rates of pay from that date will be those published below as Scale B. It is suggested that, in order to maintain the present standard of recruitment, it is necessary to preserve some differentiation between the rates of pay admissible to a person recruited in Europe and in India, respectively, by the grant to the former of special allowances in addition to the Indian or second rate of pay. It has, therefore, been decided to follow the precedent set in the case of the Public Works Department, and to grant the European Engineers recruited for the Telegraph Engineering cadre an overseas allowance or compensation for expatriation, and, in addition, to grant a technical allowance to all engineers recruited in Europe, whether European or Indian, in consideration of the superior professional qualifications at present secured by a course of training in the United Kingdom.

General Notes.

The Import and Export Licensing Section, Board of Trade, announces that from receiving orders which require immediate acceptance may telegraph details of any such order to ascertain whether a license will be granted for the export of the goods if the order is accepted.

In the event of an application being received a license will be issued to deal with the order straightforwardly with the knowledge that upon application being made on the proper form to the Import and Export Licensing Section (Board of Trade) the license will be granted.

The telegrams should be addressed to “Director, London.” They should give in each case in addition to the name and postal or telegraphic address of the applicant the quantity and description of the goods concerned in the order and the country of destination. A reply of 24 words (14) must be posted.

Applications are requested in their own interests to restrict their enquiries to orders needing a very urgent decision, since the fewer the enquiries the more promptly an answer can be given.

Any subsequent correspondence that is necessary in connection with the telegraphic enquiries should be addressed to the Director, Import and Export Licensing Section, Board of Trade, Greek George Street, S.W. 1.

EXPENSIVE COST OF 1924-25—FIRST REPORT

(On an average of the five years ending 1918-19, the area under sugarcane in the Madras Presidency has represented some 1½ per cent of the total area under sugarcane in British India.)

The area planted with sugarcane up to 1st August 1925 is estimated at 28,500 acres which is about 50 per cent above the average of 18,800 acres made on the corresponding date last year. The increase is general except in the Deccan and the Andhra and is due to the season, which has been on the whole better than last year, for sugarcane and to the high prices fetched by sugarcane. The decrease in the Deccan and the Andhra is due to the shortage of water at the planting season owing to inadequate rainfall. Details by District are given below:—

[Area in hundreds of acres, i.e., 00 being omitted.]

5. The period under review is the eighth year of the bank's existence. The number of members rose from 965 at the beginning of the year to 747 at its end. The paid-up share capital of the members rose from Rs. 45,564-5-6 to Rs. 40,628-6-1, and the loan capital including deposits from members and non-members from Rs. 1,27,362-4-3 to Rs. 1,28,344-4-6.

6. Two hundred and fifty loans aggregating to Rs. 1,59,546-3-6 were outstanding against members at the beginning of the year and 149 loans amounting to Rs. 1,44,742 were disbursed during the year. One hundred and five loans amounting to Rs. 65,478 were completely discharged and a sum of Rs. 27,044 was recovered as part payment. It is noted that the overdrafts are heavy.

6. During the year under review the bank earned a net profit of Rs. 8,011-5-6 as against Rs. 4,026-12-3 in the previous year; one-fourth of this, Rs. 2,005-6-3 should under by-law 80 be carried to the credit of the reserve fund. One-eighth of the net profit, viz., Rs. 1,002-8-0 is available as bonus to be paid at Discharge. One of the members of Rs. 1,25-11-4 a dividend not exceeding 5 per cent shall be paid to the members proportionately to the amount of paid-up share capital held by each member and according to the full months during which it was held. The total reserve fund of the bank held in the Madras Central Bank, Limited, as 30th June 1920 was Rs. 7,114-7-10. The amount of interest earned on the accumulated reserve up to the end of the year and adjusted already in this bank is Rs. 107-12-6. The Muslim University Association having requested the foundation of a University and certain funds and property being available to this end, it is proposed to dissolve that Association and the Mahomedan Anglo-Oriental College, Aligarh, and to transfer the property of these societies to a new body called "the Aligarh Muslim University." The present Bill is designed to incorporate this University; to indicate its functions, to create its governing bodies and to define their jurisdiction. It also accords to the University the measure of a permanent endowment and to Government the necessary powers of control. The University will be of the teaching and residential type. In accordance with the recommendations of the Calcutta University Committee, the University will not include intermediate classes. But the University will have power to establish and maintain intermediate colleges and schools at Aligarh. The degrees conferred will be recognised by the Government. Special features of the University will be the importing of Muslim religious education to Muslims and the inclusion of Departments of Islamic Studies.

2. The Bill also provides for the making of Statutes and Regulations. The first Statutes are scheduled to the Bill and consist of those which may be regarded as fundamental for the inception of the scheme.

3. The general terms of the Bill and Statutes have at various times been discussed with representatives of the Muslim University Association.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The replacement of the Indian Volunteer Force, which had been in existence for nearly 60 years, by the Indian Defence Force, was a war measure necessitated by the exigencies of the situation. Compulsory service was adopted to meet the needs of an Imperial emergency. Recourse to voluntary enlistment is now considered desirable, but it is essential to maintain and develop the reconstituted Volunteer Force, the improvement in organization and in the standard of training effected under war conditions.

The necessity for a substantial amendment of the Indian Volunteers Act, 1909, had long been apparent. Under that enactment, no definite obligations were imposed on enrolled men in the matter of training, and the standard of efficiency varied widely in different units. It is now proposed to secure the requisite amendment by the substitution of a new measure, in which the obligations of those enrolled in the matter of training and service are clearly defined.

The main principle underlying these guidelines is that the European and domestic conscription, being employed for the most part in the public services or in commercial and industrial companies of importance, cannot be regarded as available for any but purely local service, and further that military training must be conducted as far as possible in the earlier years of service in the force. Moreover conditions differ greatly in different localities and for this reason it has been found desirable to adjust requirements in the matter of training to the local conditions obtaining. Some adjustment will be effected through the agency of Advisory Committees in each military area, power of effecting the training in different localities being concentrated in these bodies.

The liability to local service only is subject to the provision that, in circumstances of emergency to be notified formally by Government, any part of the force may be required to serve beyond the limits of the military area to which it belongs, but in no case out of India.

No term of service is specified, as was the case under the Indian Volunteer Act, 1909. Any enlisted person desirous of discharge during the first six years of his service will be required to satisfy the local Advisory Committee as to the validity of his reasons for desiring to leave the Force; but after completing six years of service he may be discharged at any time on application being made to the Commanding Officer and an reference to higher authorities will be required.

The rule of training laid down in the Bill is based on the principle already indicated. On attaining the age of 15, a member of the force is entitled to be passed into the First Class of the Reserve and thenceforward to undergo training on a reduced scale. On attaining the age of 40, he will be included in the Second Class of the Reserve, and will then be required to complete the annual cavalry course only. It is permissible, however, for any private in the Reserve to undertake, from year to year, the liabilities imposed on persons belonging to a higher class.

Members of the Force will be subject to the provisions of the Army Act when called out and when embodied, or when attached to or working with any part of the Regular Forces thus rule being the same as that applied to the Territorial Force in England. Military discipline in other respects will be enforced either under the summary powers of the Commanding Officer, or, in the case of more serious offences and in any case should the person charged be sent, by order of the ordinary Criminal Courts. In no case can a Commanding Officer order any form of imprisonment as a summary or minor punishment, and no military offence (as specified in clause 24 of the Bill) is punishable with imprisonment by a Magistrate unless it constitutes an offence as punishable under the ordinary law.
